U.F.A. PARTY RETURN TO POWER

The Brownlee government, under the banner of the U.F.A. was again swept into power with a large majority at the election on Thursday, and the U.F.A. administration has been upheld.

The returns that are on hand as we go to press are that 40 U.F.A. members have been elected, 4 Liberal, 2 Independent, 2 Labor, 4 Conservatives, and the other 13 seats still undecided or unheard from.

In the Wainwright constituency, J. R. Love, was re-elected by a majority in very heavy contest. The vote with two polls to hear from is as follows:

J. R. Love, U.F.A., 1485
Major Pitman, Ind., 995
S. R. Bowerman, Lib., 620

Next week we will give a detailed report of the result at the various polls.

Farquharson, U.F.A. was re-elected in Ribstone constituency, and A. G. Andrews, U.F.A. was re-elected in Sedgewick constituencies by handsome majorities.

MUNICIPAL HAIL INSURANCE
Under the Municipal Hail Insurance Board Alberta is divided into seven classes, with a graduated system of percentage taxation.

Municipal District No. 424 is in Class F, which is the lowest class of all, and of course pays the lowest rate, the rate for 1929 was 5 per cent and there does not seem any likelihood of it being any higher for 1930. Class F has never been higher than 5 per cent.

Remember you do not pay the tax until Fall. If you have not got the necessary application forms, write me, phone me, or call on me, and we will fix it up right away, and your crop will be insured the moment the application form reaches Calgary.

VIKING
Harry Luross and four other passengers had an interesting trip by airplane from McLennan in the Peace River Country to Edmonton on Monday. Lesser Slave Lake had risen six feet and flooded about forty miles of the railroad track near McLennan and the train was held up for several days, with over 300 passengers on board. Mr. Luross together with four others chartered one of the Commercial Airways seaplanes for the rest of the trip to Edmonton. They battled the high wind all the way to Edmonton but finally landed in a small lake near Port Saskatchewan. After battling the gale for about forty miles out of Athabasca, they had to return to the town for more gasoline as the headwinds had almost exhausted the supply. The distance they had made in forty minutes against the wind, was made in five minutes with the wind. Taking off from Athabasca they made a successful trip to Edmonton, flying in all about 350 miles. Mr. Luross said it was a great trip in every way, but was glad when the plane landed safely near Fort Saskatchewan.

Five teams from the horse shoe club visited Wainwright last Wednesday afternoon, and were defeated in a series of five games by about forty points.

Viking Sports Should Draw Large Crowds

Everything points toward a very successful sports day at Viking, on Wednesday, June 25th. The weather man has done his part the past few days, and has whispered to us that the 25th is going to be one of those rare days in June that poets have sung about for ages.

Mr. Kastor, the baseball manager, who has put Viking back on the baseball map this year, has lined up five good teams for the ball tournament. Sedgewick, Holden, Irma, Vegreville and Viking. They will battle for a purse of $125.00, which should make the boys go some.

Percy Finch, the most enthusiastic football player and fan in this neck of the woods, has teams from Irma, Phillips, Rutherglen and Viking signed on the dotted line. Percy and a few others were up to see the Glasgow Rangers play at Edmonton, and got brushed up on some of the fine points of the game. The football matches should be good.

The basketball committee is working hard to bring some of the best basketballers to perform for the crowds. The Horseshoe committee has also arranged a tournament, teams from several nearby towns have signified their intention to come and lift the purse.

The Horse race committee are lining up some fast ponies that will probably break the record of the local track. Don't miss 'em.

Athletic events, children's races, carnival attractions, and don't forget the Special Prizes donated by local business men.

Last but not least will be the grand ball in the evening in the splendid Elks Community Hall which has the best and largest dance floor in Western Canada.

Tickets for the grounds will be sold up town in the forenoon to relieve the congestion at the gate.

Well, now it's up to you to come and enjoy yourself.

This Was a Real Million Dollar Rain

A four day rain that was as welcome as the flowers in May, brightened the hopes of everyone for a crop this year. Starting on Tuesday evening it rained intermittently until Saturday evening when the skies cleared and Sunday was a beautiful day in June. The prospects for a crop are a hundred per cent. better than they were a week ago, and pasture is improving every day. It looks like the turning point has been reached.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"

An Encouragement To Progress

The subject of immigration has for many years been a live topic in Canada, and never more so than during the past year or two. There is, however, this difference, that whereas for many decades the discussion of the subject was largely as to ways and means whereby a large volume of immigration could be secured, in more recent years the thought of our people has rather been directed towards the successful colonization of the new comers.

That is to say, where at one time the main objective was to get immigrants in large numbers to settle upon our vacant lands, the main objective now is to see that those who do come make a real success of their venture, adapt themselves to the new environment in which they find themselves, and, by associating themselves with the life and activities of the communities in which they locate, identify themselves with Canada and become Canadian citizens in thought and aspiration as well as in name.

To a greater extent than ever before native-born Canadians, and those of our citizenship who call the British Isles "home," have come to realize and appreciate the fact that immigrants coming to Canada from lands other than those under the British flag or speaking the English language, are really, even keenly, anxious to become Canadians in the full meaning of the term. Appreciation of this fact is helping to break down old barriers of prejudice, and the English-speaking Canadian is becoming more and more anxious to co-operate with and assist his fellow-Canadian or foreign extraction.

In a recent issue of this paper there appeared an article in the news columns outlining a plan originated by the Canadian National Railways, under the direction of Dr. W. J. Black, the directing head of the departments of Agriculture and Colonization of that system, having as its object the encouragement of community progress and development, and the attainment of the fullest possible measure of Canadian citizenship by those rural communities of the three prairie provinces which are of European origin.

The plan is simple, but far-reaching and of tremendous importance. It involves the carrying out of a series of competitions among such communities, to be held annually for a period of five years, with three substantial prizes, of $1,000, $500, and $250 respectively, to be awarded each year in each of the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta on the understanding that the money be utilized in community work of some progressive nature.

In other words, such of these rural municipalities or groups of school districts within municipalities in which the population is made up of people of continental European origin of the first or second generation, which display the greatest interest in co-operation among themselves to promote education, public health, and a better class of agriculture, and show the best results, will be awarded these prizes, which, in turn, are to be used in still further promoting progressive community betterment.

The community which through the co-operative action of its people shows the best schools, the most regular attendance of pupils, the largest percentage of children going on for secondary or university training, which takes the keenest interest in matters of public health, social welfare, music, arts and handicrafts, which enthusiastically supports community organizations such as agricultural societies, co-operative marketing pools, women's institutes and home maker's clubs, libraries, etc., or which evinces the greatest interest and reveal the greatest progress in the improvement of agricultural methods, will be the winners of these substantial prizes.

But the greatest gain to such communities will not be the winning of the prizes, but in the direct and indirect benefits which will accrue to each individual and the community as a whole from the practice of these worthwhile things. The prizes are, after all, but an additional incentive to work for the welfare and advancement of the community which the people therein call "home." The prizes are but a tangible encouragement to excel all other communities in real constructive Canadian citizenship, to demonstrate through a determination to make use of and emphasize the best Canada has to offer in the development of their particular section of the Dominion.

Death Takes Well-Known Railway Official

F. E. Trautman Was C.P.R. Publicity Representative For Many Years

Fred E. Trautman, 66, for almost a score of years publicity representative of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the west, died in Winnipeg recently. He had been operated on as result of a blood poisoning condition and failed to rally.

Mr. Trautman, born in Pennsylvania, worked on newspapers in the eastern United States and at Fort William, Ont., before he came to Winnipeg in 1912 as Canadian Pacific Railway publicity man. In taking the position with the railway under Sir George Bury, he was the first railway press representative in the west.

Ocean Bed Is Changing

Shipping Has Been Endangered By Upheavals In Pacific

Strange things are happening in the murky regions of the ocean bed. In the Pacific the bed has been rising so much that shipping has become endangered. Off the west coast of Nicaragua the charts show an ocean depth of 222 feet, but the figure is now actually 2 feet. Another sounding showed the actual depth to be 51 feet where the chart showed 1,608 feet. Sudden upheavals on the ocean floor recently worked havoc among the telegraph cables; many of the stoutest were snapped like string, including one of the latest, which normally takes five different sets of messages at once in each direction. When a break occurs the cable ship goes out; delicate apparatus aboard shows the break within two yards of the actual spot, and dragging commences. Up comes the cable. A new length is inserted to make the join, and so critical is the actual work of joining the strands inside that the film of grease on a man's hand can actually prevent the join from being effective.

BRIGHT EYES ROSY CHEEKS

The Birthright Of Every Girl

Dull eyes mean misery and weakness—a sure sign of a bloodless condition. As a rule girls and women have dull, heavy eyes with dark lines underneath. The bright eyed girl or woman is always happy and well.

There is one way to make the eyes bright—to bring the glow of health pale cheeks—that is to invigorate the body with new blood—rich, red health-giving blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this and they do it well. Concerning them Mrs. Robert Devitt, Brougham, Ont., says: "My daughter became so ill and nervous we had to take her out of school. She was pale and thin; her eyes were dull and the least exertion upset her. I began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in less than six months you would not know her. She gained in weight and strength and is now the picture of health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50¢ each, a box of three for $1.50. Write to Dr. J. C. Williams, Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Predicts Reduction In European Crop

One Third Less Than Last Year Say Wheat Experts

A European wheat harvest of about one-third less than the bumper crop of 1929 is predicted by London, England, wheat experts.

The 1930 harvest, which the experts estimated at about 25 per cent. less than average, was damaged somewhat by a cold, wet spring. Decrease in acreage was cited to account for the remainder of the drop from last year's total.

In the event of a shortage in the current crop in the United States, Argentina and Canada, it was considered certain that prices would be advanced materially.

One of the commonest complaints of infants is worms, and the most effective application for them is Mother Graves' Worm Extirminator.

No Mortar Used

Bricks that dovetail and interlock and that are said to form a wall stronger than can be built with the usual kind, are laid without mortar. An angular ridge in the centre of each brick fits into a corresponding groove in the one above it, so that no mortar is necessary to hold the units together, says Popular Mechanics Magazine.

More bicycles were made in Canada in 1929 than in any previous year and prices were lower than they have been for thirty years, according to the records of the Canada Cycle and Motor Company.

Canada's War Pensions

Literally Shown By Act Recently Passed By Parliament

The recent War Pensions Act passed by the House of Commons and the Senate keeps the Dominion of Canada in the forefront among nations of the world as to liberality in dealing with war veterans. So far, Canada has paid in pensions and soldiers' rehabilitation $225,000,000. Soldiers' insurance, given without medical examination, is at present self-supporting, but before the conclusion of the scheme the loss as estimated will be over $25,000,000.

This year's expenses for pensions and soldiers' civil re-establishment is estimated at $61,394,000. Next year this branch is expected to cost $2,000,000. The scheme giving the equivalent of old age pensions at an earlier age to "burnt out soldiers" will cost $2,000,000 this year and increase annually to 1937, when it will be $18,000,000. It will expire in 1975, and the aggregate cost will be $480,000,000.

An immediate outlay of $7,457,000 will be involved in replacing those on the pension list who commuted their pensions. There are 8,048 in this class. The law is made broader in widow's pensions and medical examination and this will also add to the annual cost.

New Telegraph System

Office-To-Office Connection Would Keep Messages Secret

A new system of telegraphy for London has been suggested by which messages tapped out on a keyboard, like a typewriter keyboard, in a private office, will be transmitted and automatically reprinted in the office of another subscriber. If the new system is installed a subscriber wishing to telegraph by it presses a button to call the exchange, and dials the number of the subscriber to whom he wishes to telegraph, in the same way as an automatic telephone is dialled. When the exchange signals that the connection has been made, both subscribers can type to each other. Their messages will be telegraphed and re-typed automatically. When the communications are finished another button is pressed which ends the connection. The introduction of the system will offer the advantages of quick transmission, the ability to send messages at any time, and complete secrecy, as the direct office-to-office connection will prevent the message being seen by telegraph clerks or other post office employees.

Plans Elevated Playgrounds

New York Architect Has Idea For Congested Areas

Elevated playgrounds for children over the streets in the congested areas have been proposed by a New York architect. Such playgrounds, it was estimated, could be constructed for about $25,000 each, only a fraction of the cost of acquiring property for them, and at the same time providing the exercise where most needed, instead of in isolated sections difficult for the children to reach. The grounds would be built of reinforced concrete with a steel superstructure and surrounded by a wire net with flower boxes outside the netting to give the effect of a roof garden.

Its Quality Sells It.—The fact that so many thousands of intelligent people continue to use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil speaks volumes for its healing efficiency. Ever since it was first introduced it has grown steadily in popularity, owing entirely to its manifold usefulness in relieving and healing sickness. As a specific for rheumatism, its record is beyond reproach.

Praise For Canada

Of all countries in the world, Canada is the best place to live in at the present time, declared Lord Willingdon, Governor-General. In a recent speech at Ottawa, no country had a brighter future than Canada. His Excellency said, and in a very few years the Dominion would go forward to increased prosperity. In his recent visits he had been struck by the evidences of more satisfactory farming conditions than he had witnessed since coming to Canada.

An attempt to blow up the tomb of Peter Veregin, the Doukhobor leader, who was killed in an explosion in a railway coach in 1924, was revealed at Nelson, B.C., by the finding of a bomb planted beside the structure. A miscalculation in the timer failed to explode the dynamite.

Dr. G. M. Weir, D.Phed, head of the school of education and director of the summer session, University of British Columbia, who is making an all-Canada survey of conditions regarding the nursing profession, has been loaned by the B.C. officials to the Canadian Medical Society and the Canadian Nurses' Association with a view to preparing a report on the educational, economic and sociological problems of the nursing profession. His head office is in Toronto.

Roads Made Of Steel

Roads of steel in England are scheduled for the future if one steel road built on the King's Road, Chelsea, proves practical. It is a continuous network of tough steel, whose interstices are filled with concrete. On the surface, however, the metal grid is directly exposed to the wheels of vehicles. It is expected to last twice as long as any other road.

Minard's for Insect Bites

Revenue From Livestock
Indians from the three prairie provinces sold approximately $250,000 worth of cattle last year and still have around 25,000 head on the different reservations. The quality of the cattle is improving rapidly and Indian live stock men are in good financial condition.

Aid For Faithful Servant

Man Who Travelled With David Livingstone Gets Pension

As the result of an appeal for funds to aid Matthew Wellington, the faithful servant of David Livingstone, the explorer-missionary, he is assured of an income of $5 a week for life. Wellington is 85 and lives at Mombasa, Africa, so that the pension will care for his simple needs. Matthew was with his master at his death, helped to embalm the body, and accompanied the coffin from the wilds to the African coast. The response to the appeal from Scotland was gratifying, and the money is now being sent to the old man through the Resident Commissioner of Mombasa.

Nothing As Good For Asthma. Asthma remedies come and go but every year the sales of the original Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy grow greater and greater. No further evidence could be asked of its remarkable merit. It relieves. It is always of the same unvarying quality which the sufferer from asthma learns to know. Do not suffer another attack, but get this splendid remedy today.

Treaty Money Paid

Five dollars apiece in treaty money was handed out to 481 Indians, on June 3, at The Pas, Manitoba, as the Union Jack fluttered over the treaty-ceremony. Two Indians went for a taxi-drive and scores frequented the five-and-ten-cent store. The natives made merry at the reserve, singing Indian songs and dancing the Red River jig.

Extensive Program Has Been Arranged For This Season's Work In North

The growing importance of Canada's Far North is indicated in the extensive program now being arranged by the Department of the Interior through its North West Territories and Yukon Branch for its work in the Territories during the coming season. The activities and projects contemplated include arrangements for the reception and establishment of the Government reindeer herd, the enlargement of the medical service, the organization of the warden patrol in Thelon Game Sanctuary, the extension of the 1930 voyage of the Department's expeditionary ship, and the opening to prospectors of the Coppermine mineral reserve.

During the coming year most of the areas in the Northwest Territories where there are trading posts and settlements will be under active medical surveillance. Dr. Livingstone, senior medical officer, has already left for Churchill from which point he will travel by dog team to Chesterfield, where the Department of the Interior has built a house for his accommodation. He will visit all Eskimo settlements en route. With Chesterfield as a centre, Dr. Livingstone will be in touch with Baker Lake and the other important posts in the districts on the west side of Hudson Bay. He will remain in charge of this post until the arrival of the Department's patrol ship "Boothie" early next autumn, when he will be replaced by the ship's doctor, Dr. Livingstone will return to North Sydney on the "Boothie" and will later proceed to Fort Smith, N.W.T., which is the Department's headquarters for the District of Mackenzie. At this point there is a large mission hospital, and he will take over the duties of the retiring medical health officer and have general supervision of the medical work of the district. The scattered nature of the medical work in the Mackenzie delta and Arctic coast to the east and west, under Dr. J. A. Urquhart, stationed at Aklayik, has necessitated improved means of transportation, and to meet this a motor hospital boat has been built at Edmonton and with the opening of northern navigation will be taken to Fort Smith. From this point it will proceed to its own power to Aklayik and at the same time carry Mr. J. F. Moran, chief inspector, on his annual tour of the Mackenzie district. Other departmental medical officers in the Territories are Dr. R. D. Martin, at the mouth of the Coppermine, and Dr. H. A. Stuart, on Baffin Island.

Preparations for the reception of the reindeer herd of 3,000 head, now on its way overland from Alaska, which will arrive early in 1931, will be completed this year. Mr. R. T. Forslid has arrived at Aklayik by aeroplane and will supervise the erection of corrals and buildings on the range of Corral and buildings on the range of Corral and buildings on the range of Corral.

The Coppermine mineral reserve will be opened for staking on July 1, and Major L. T. Burwash, who made an inspection of this field in 1929, will go in by aeroplane early in the season so as to be on the ground as soon as possible. Later, if conditions permit, he will fly to King William Island to carry on further investigations with regard to the fate of Sir John Franklin.

The organization of the regular patrol of the Thelon Game Sanctuary for the protection of wild life, particularly the musk-ox, will be completed this year. Mr. W. H. B. Hoare, who returned last autumn after a twenty months' investigation of the area, will go north to superintend the erection of warden cabins at the east and west ends of the sanctuary and the establishment in the reserve of warden and native helpers.

This year's cruise of the Department of the Interior's expeditionary ship "Boothie" will be slightly different from that of former years in order that she may enter Lancaster sound after the ice has moved out. If conditions then permit she will proceed to Winter Harbour, Melville Island and renew the supplies in the cache established by Captain Bernier, of C.G.S. Arctic, in 1908-9, which proved of such service to the northern party of the Canadian Arctic Expedition of 1913-18, and to Inspector Joy of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police during his notable winter journey of 1,800 miles, in 1929.

In addition to her usual work in carrying relief personnel and supplies to the various posts in the Canadian Arctic archipelago, the "Boothie" will take to Lake Harbour, on the southern shore of Baffin Island, sufficient lumber and supplies to erect a house for a resident officer there. This house will be occupied for the next two years by Mr. and Mrs. J. Dewey Soper. Mr. Soper will continue his investigations respecting the blue goose and its nesting ground, will survey certain parts of the shore line, and make observations in regard to terrestrial magnetism. Mrs. Soper, who is a trained nurse, will be of great assistance in cases of illness among the natives.

The services above mentioned, it will be noted, nearly all additions to the administrative work of the North West Territories and Yukon Branch, which has been steadily growing for many years, and they show both the increased interest which citizens are taking in Northern Canada and the forethought which the Department of the Interior is exercising to ensure that the needs of the Territories will be adequately met.

Judgments Act Reciprocal

Ontario Makes Law Court Pact With Province Of Saskatchewan

The reciprocal enforcement of the Judgments act is now in operation between Ontario and Saskatchewan, according to an announcement made by Attorney-General W. H. Price.

The act was recommended in 1928 by the Dominion committee on uniformity of law and was passed by all the provinces last year, but was made subject to proclamation by order-in-council.

Ontario put through the order to make it effective on May 9, and Saskatchewan proclaimed its act on May 26. It will now be possible for a business concern to get a judgment in Ontario and collect from a person living in Saskatchewan without the necessity of suing on judgment, as was heretofore the practice.

Colonel Price stated that legislation, in his opinion, was of far-reaching benefit, and he expressed hope that the other provinces would soon see their way clear to follow in the course set by Saskatchewan.

The committee on uniformity of law expressed the opinion, at the time they recommended such legislation, that general adoption and operation of it was most desirable.

Cattle In Prize Class

The highest individual price and the highest average price for the cattle from any one contributor at the recent National Holstein sale at Toronto, were secured by the six animals sent by the Canadian Pacific Supply Farm at Strathmore, Alberta. A four-year-old heifer from the herd brought $1,625, the highest price of the sale; while a young bull brought $975, the highest price in the bull class. The six animals averaged $658 as compared with $327 for the average of the 64 animals, vended at the sale.

Built First Automobile

Andrew Lawrence Riker, 81, designer and builder of the first gasoline-propelled locomotive, died recently at Fairfield, Conn. In 1884, he designed and built his first automobile, an electric tricycle. He introduced the sliding gear transmission, steel frame and the four-cylinder vertical motor with high tension ignition.

The automotive industry in the United States used 47,000,000 yards of upholstery cloth in 1928.

One of the most practical fashions of the season for the school miss of 8, 9, 10 and 12 years is illustrated in navy blue wool crepe with beige crepe collar and cuffs. The scallops of collar and cuffs are accented by vivid red taffeta - bias binding. Matching shade red bone buttons emphasize side scalloped closing of bodice. Red suede belt completes this jaunty outfit.

Style No. 2947 is made at a remarkable saving, for in the 8-year size, it takes but 2 yards of 40-inch material with 3/4 yards of 32-inch contrasting. The bodice has a one-piece back, front in two sections. Seamed at sides and shoulders. The two-piece skirt is seamed at sides and pressed into inverted pleats at either side of front and attached to bodice. It is now practically ready to set sleeves into armholes and stitch collar at neckline.

Wool jersey in French blue with collar and cuffs of blue and white checked woolen is very smart. Beige and brown checked woolen with plain brown is sportive.

Featherweight tweed in mauve-red with plain red woolen can be worn all through the Fall without a top coat.

Orchid chambray with white plaques, cotton broadcloth in geometric print in red and white with plain white plaques, red and white gingham check with plain white linen, and tan sports weight linen with brown are attractive fashionable fabrics.

Prospects For Good Trade

Fresh Milk Would Find Ready Market In Orient

Canadians of all classes are accustomed to a fine quality of fresh milk. Most of them will be astounded to learn that there are countries where such milk is not available even to people who are ill. It is another revelation of our luxurious privileges that are just taken for granted in a rich country.

Having learned that some of our surplus products of the dairy might meet a crying need in the Orient, Canadians will prudently seek to discover some business can be done in supplying the need. It requires fourteen days for a liner to carry the milk across the Pacific to Shanghai in refrigerators. Indications are that it can be done successfully.

It has been transported to London in good condition. Both China and Japan are short of milk. There is an opening for Canadian export that would be very welcome among peoples who are rapidly adopting our diet. It demands skilful executive work to place Canadian products on the distant Oriental market, but even expensive experiments offer prospects of lucrative trade, and that is what will build up this country.

Rust Expert To Visit England

Dr. Craigie, Of Winnipeg, Will Spend Year In Study

Dr. J. H. Craigie, head of the Rust Research Laboratory, Winnipeg, is leaving at the end of July for England where he will deliver a paper in connection with his rust investigations at the International Botanical Congress, which is being held at Cambridge in August. Dr. Margaret Newton, of the Winnipeg Rust Research Laboratory is also attending this conference and will later visit various investigation laboratories in Britain and the continent.

Dr. Craigie plans to spend the next year at Cambridge and the other institutions studying their work and methods in connection with plant diseases; while Dr. Dillon-Craig, of Cambridge, will visit the Winnipeg institution in a similar capacity for the coming year.

Dr. Craigie was recently awarded his doctor's degree at the University of Manitoba, his thesis being on his work in connection with the discovery of rust fungi. His work in this connection was considered the most outstanding achievement in connection with rust investigation that has yet been accomplished.

Planning New Air Mail Line

Group Of Japanese Business Men Behind Scheme Is Report

A project of inaugurating a regular passenger and mail air line between Japan and the United States and Canada to shorten the distance between the continents to three days, is reported to have been organized by a group of Japanese business men and financed at a capitalization of $75,000,000. Four huge airships, resembling the Graf Zeppelin, which encircled the globe last year, are expected to be employed for the regular air trips.

The Japanese Government has been officially asked for the necessary permits and those behind the enterprise say they propose to go right ahead with their preparations. Seki Hoshino, noted Tokyo business man and one of the promoters, says the plan was projected last year shortly after the visit of the German dirigible. The single fare for a passenger, he said, would be $1,500.

Deaths in civil aircraft accidents in England last year totalled 33.

Increase Of Wild Life In Canada's National Parks Proves Sanctuaries a Success

A dispatch to the Commissioner of National Parks, Department of the Interior, from A. Bryan Williams, Game Commissioner of British Columbia, announces the safe arrival of the carload of elk recently shipped from Buffalo National Park, Wainwright, Alberta, to the Queen Charlotte Islands. The animals are a donation by the Dominion to the Provincial Government for restocking purposes on these islands. They were captured from the wild elk herd, now numbering over 600, roaming the Buffalo reserve and were particularly fine specimens of their kind. They were cut out of the main herd by the park riders, corralled until safe to handle, and then placed in specially constructed crates. Through the co-operation of the Canadian National Railways, a special baggage car was provided which was attached to the regular passenger train for Prince Rupert, and went through express to that port. Here the elk were transferred to a boat sailing to the Queen Charlotte Islands. No loss or injury was sustained in transit and according to the report the animals are already settling down and adapting themselves to their new surroundings.

The successful transfer of wild animals as large as these by rail and water for over 1,000 miles was in itself an achievement; but the greatest interest attached to the undertaking lies in its significance from the conservation point of view. A scientific philosopher has described this era as the close of the age of mammals. From every part of the world in the last quarter of a century have come reports that wild life was being destroyed at a far greater rate than it could reproduce itself. The inevitable spread of civilization, with its concomitants—the breaking up of land, draining of swamps, felling of forests and many other operations—has been destroying the world over, the natural homes of big game. In recent years, too, the forces of destruction due to mechanical invention and greater facilities of transportation have increased enormously, and disastrous inroads have been made in many species.

A few years ago there was organized in England a conservation movement known as the Society for Preservation of the Fauna of the Empire. Its president, the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Onslow, in reviewing the depletion of wild life throughout the Empire today, stated that the only satisfactory method of ensuring the preservation of wild animals in the far distant future is by the formation of sanctuaries or the establishment of national parks. As an example of what could be accomplished, he cited the policy of the National Parks of Canada.

It will be recalled that about twenty years ago the national parks of this country were made game sanctuaries not only in name but in fact. An adequate system of warden patrols was established and the regulations rigidly enforced. As everyone knows the results have surpassed the most sanguine anticipations. Sheep, goat, bear, elk and deer, which had practically disappeared from these regions, have now come back in such numbers that the parks have become the wild life reservoirs of the West. The British Columbia Government has been drawing on them to restock its own depleted game areas. Two regions in the southern part of the province, recent years have been stocked with Rocky Mountain sheep—that much prized trophy of the sportsman. Two or three years ago a herd of elk was also shipped from Buffalo park to restock areas between the Okanagan and Kettle valleys. The National Parks of Canada have also been able to furnish from their increasing stocks, big game animals for zoological exhibits or as nuclei for conservation experiments in various parts of the world.

These results prove clearly the truth of Lord Onslow's contention in a recent report, that an ultimate world bankruptcy in wild life need not be accepted as inevitable. While adequate protective measures, he pointed out, will help to maintain the stocks, it is only through the creation of national parks such as have proved so successful in Canada, that the final rescue of many species can be assured. Canada, he declared, is setting an example in conservation to other countries and its abundant success is a happy augury of what others may achieve.

Scottish Ayrshire

Export Trade Grows

Canada and States Taking Large Consignments Of Cattle

Scotland is rapidly developing an important export trade in Ayrshire cattle, the country's native dairy breed. The other week a consignment of 19 pedigree heifers, mainly from Ayrshire, was sent to Ontario, Canada.

Hugh Bone, secretary of the Ayrshire Cattle Herd Book Society, says that the export trade has increased greatly in last two years. He added:

"We have exported 173 head of Ayrshire cattle since the end of March, and as the average price is between £90 and £100 a head it is obvious that the trade is a very valuable one. Last year we presented 30 head of Ayrshires to the University of British Columbia to form the nucleus of a herd there, and since then two more consignments have gone there. Canadian and American dairymen are the best foreign customers for Ayrshires. They find that our cattle can produce milk with a higher butter fat content on small rations. Three Ayrshires can thrive on poor land where only two cows of other breeds could."

Young Poultry Fanciers

Fourteen Boys' and Girls' Clubs In Armstrong, B.C.

Armstrong, in the Okanagan Valley, holds the record among the towns of British Columbia, if not of Canada, for juvenile poultry fanciers, having no less than fourteen boys' and girls' poultry clubs with a membership of 120. This is largely due to the enthusiasm and organizing ability of G. W. Game. The majority of these young folk met in conference recently. They had a very enjoyable and profitable time, and, as they posed for a group photograph, they made an inspiring spectacle, boding well for the future of the industry in the premier poultry province.

UNCOOKED MARSHMALLOW
LOAF will keep successfully for some time in a cool place. It may be served alone or with whipped cream.
Sterilize, then butter the kitchen scissors and cut one-half pound of marshmallows into quarters and drop into one-half cupful of this cream to soften. Meanwhile pit and cut one-half pound of dates into lengthwise quarters. Roll one-half pound of Graham crackers until finely crumbed and chop coarsely one-half cupful of walnuts or pecans. Work all together into a loaf and shape in a pan two inches deep. Cut when ready to serve.

PEANUT PUDDING—Mix together or three tablespoons of honey, two and two-thirds tablespoons of cornstarch, three tbsps of peanut butter and one-eighth of a tspful of salt. Blend well and then gradually stir into it two cupfuls of scalded milk. When smooth, cover and cook in a double boiler twenty minutes.
Turn into small molds to chill and serve unmolded with whipped or plain cream.

PINEAPPLE RICE—Cook one-half cupful of rice in four cupfuls of boiling salted water until just tender.
Drain thoroughly and cool. Add one cupful of crushed pineapple in which one-eighth of a cupful of sugar has been dissolved. Mix together lightly with a fork and chill, and just before serving fold in three-quarters of a cupful of cream, whipped.

MAPLE NUT MOLD — Mix together one-half cupful of brown sugar and three tablespoons of corn starch and add enough cold water to make a smooth paste—about four tablespoons. Stir into one and one-half cupfuls of boiling water and cook in a double boiler fifteen minutes, stirring until thickened. Add one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, one half tspful of vanilla, fold into the beaten white of one egg, and add one-quarter cupful of chopped walnuts meats. Pour into individual molds and chill.

CHOCOLATE MACAROON PUD-DING — Soak one tspful of granulated gelatin in two tspfuls of cold water until the water is absorbed, then add one quarter of a cupful of boiling water and stir until dissolved.
Chill, and, when starting to set, fold in one pint of cream, whipped. Add six well-crushed macaroons to half of the mixture. Pour into a mold and cover with the remaining part, into which has been folded one-quarter of a pound of melted sweet chocolate.
This will stiffen very attractively in distinct layers.

DELMONICO PUDDING—Soak
three quarters of a tbspn of granulated gelatin in two tbsps of cold water, then dissolve in one-quarter of a cupful of boiling water and add one tablespoon of lemon juice. Stir this gelatin mixture into a soft custard made from one egg yolk, one-eighth of a cupful of sugar, one-eighth of a tsp of salt and one cupful of hot milk. Let it stand until cool, then fold in one stiffly beaten egg white and one-half tsp of vanilla, and pour into a mold. When firm enough to hold its shape, spread over it one cupful of cream, whipped, and mixed with one quarter of a cupful of powdered sugar and one half tsp of vanilla. Dot with one eighth of a pound of minced candied fruit. Chill for two hours and serve unmolded.

Cut Your Plowing Costs
With Oliver Hart-Parr Power

The Oliver Hart-Parr Tractor works well on low-grade fuels.

To you, this means lower plowing costs. A saving of a few cents a gallon on fuel makes a big difference by the end of plowing time. Many owners insist they have saved from $50 to $100 in fuel costs alone in one season's work, as compared with their neighbors who own tractors that operate best only on gasoline.

The ability of the Oliver Hart-Parr to burn inexpensive fuels, plus its ease of handling, dependable lubricating system and accessibility make it a real long-time income paying investment.

BANK OF MONTREAL ISSUES STRONG REPORT FOR FIRST HALF-YEAR PERIOD

Paid-up Capital is At a New High Level of $36,000,000—Rest Account $38,000,000, Two Millions Above Paid-up Capital—Total Deposits Reported at $688,067,752

The Bank of Montreal is now forwarding to shareholders, a particularly satisfactory statement for the half year to April 30th.

In the face of, unusual conditions, the Bank has been able to keep strong in liquid assets and cash and at the same time to show satisfactory profits. In the general statement one of the outstanding features is the increase in current loans in Canada. Both Capital and Rest are at new high levels. The Paid-up Capital now stands at $36,000,000, up from $34,548,760 a year ago, while the Rest has been increased to $38,000,000, from $35,548,760, at which level it is $2,000,000 above the Paid-up Capital.

It is likely due to the larger Capital employed that the Bank has been able to report to shareholders slightly increased profits for the six months, as compared with the corresponding period last year. Profits amounted to $3,543,017 up from $3,491,651. There were also received in the six months payments of $51,459 as premiums on new stock. These amounts when added to the balance carried forward, brought the total available for distribution up to $4,330,050. This was appropriated as follows: Dividends and interest on installment payments on new stock $2,167,386; amount credited to Rest Account $51,459; provision for taxes Dominion Government $229,979; reservation for bank premises $600,000; leaving the balance of profit and loss to be carried forward at $1,281,033.

Strong Liquid Position

In the general statement of assets and liabilities, total assets are shown at $622,559,645, compared with $615,705,653 a year ago. Of this, liquid assets are reported at $373,450,296, equivalent to $51.03 per cent. of liabilities to the public. Included in them are cash holdings of $94,421,408, equal to $12.90 per cent. of public liabilities.

At the same time there is a somewhat unexpected increase in current loans and discounts in Canada and these are now reported at $335,301,194, up from $314,464,137. While a portion of this increase may be attributed to the wheat situation, it is also known that there is an increased tendency on the part of large customers to avail themselves of banking accommodation.

As was to be expected, with the change in the general outlook throughout the world, the most important variations are in the call loan department. Call loans in Canada are down to $27,460,856 from $39,359,779, and call loans in Great Britain and the United States have been reduced to $88,029,615 from $139,974,369. At the same time, balances due to banks and banking correspondents elsewhere, than in Canada—which to a great extent represented deposits temporarily placed on this side due to higher loan rates—are now down to $9,660,904 from $35,597,167.

Total deposits are reported at $688,067,752. Of this amount deposits bearing interest are $545,856,287 and deposits not bearing interest $130,418,937.

The principal accounts show as follows:

Total assets	$622,559,645
Liquid assets	$373,450,296
Current Loans and discounts in Canada	$335,301,194
Deposits not bearing interest	$130,418,937
Deposits bearing interest	$545,856,287
Dominion and Provincial Government Securities	96,081,964
Canadian Municipal Securities and British-Foreign and Colonial Public Securities	21,830,527
Capital	$36,000,000
Rest	38,000,000

THE COOKY JAR

Besides cutting cookies in an infinite number of shapes, to give variety, they may be decorated in dozens of ways. Raisins, cherries, currants or nuts may be pressed into their tops, or fruit and nuts may be incorporated right in the mixture before it is rolled out; or the cookies may be brushed with the white of egg and granulated sugar or sugar and cinnamon or ground nutmeats. Silver cachous are pretty for the very dainty cookies—the little silver pellets that are on our "heart" cookies here. Small coloured candies or the little sugared caraway seeds used on the big cookies in our picture, delight the children. Coconut, ground nutmeats, and so on, add decorative touches, and the very delicate mixtures which require very light baking, may be colored.

Sour Cream Cookies

Half cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 1 beaten egg, 1-2 cup thick sour cream, 1-4 tspn baking soda, 2-1-2 cups flour 3-1-2 tspns baking powder, 1 tspn vanilla.

Cream butter thoroughly and work in sugar gradually; add beaten egg; beat in soda into sour cream and add to mixture. Sift flour and baking powder together into mixture; add flavouring. Drop from spoon on greased pans. More flour may be added and mixture rolled lightly.

BOYS SUMMER CAMP

The Alberta Boys' Work Board are already making preparations for their 1930 camping program. It is confidently expected that there will be in the neighborhood of fifteen district boys' camps in as many localities throughout the province. These camps present an opportunity for purposeful character building activities for Trail Ranger and Taxis Boys as well as those boys who come from Sunday School Classes from the various denominations. Camp Taxis, the provincial leadership training camp for older boys of 16 years of age or more, will be held from July 7 to 16th at Kasota Beach, Sylvan Lake. The leadership will be the best available. Plans for this camp are rapidly taking shape. Nine days in the outdoors at one of Alberta's beauty spots with all the varied activities of a broad camping program are assured for those who share in the fine fellowship of this camp.

Well-directed camps are being recognized as vital mediums in the educational process today. Conduct and ideals as well as information are found in the education gained through camping. It is hoped that in the near future all teen age boys will be able to spend part of each summer in a well-equipped, well-directed boys' camp.

Golf is becoming popular among the ladies and two of them were heard discussing it at the Kinsella links last Sunday. "They say Mrs. plays golf just like a man," said one. "Wouldn't you think she would be ashamed to use such language?" the other replied.

"Not he," said Grandma, "but he must have been made of India rubber to get off as easy as he did. Doctor Carter was just leaving the office and the man landed right in his lap so to speak, so he got a patient. I must say, if such a thing had to happen it was nice it happened where it did, on account of the doctor. It was most two hours before the man was fixed up and steady enough to go along. The doctor took two stitches and got paid three dollars. It was a real interesting morning, and four people came in this afternoon just to hear about it. Well, dearie, did Jim tell you the news?"

"News!" echoed Charmian. "I should say you'd told it yourself. You're out of breath, Grandma, but talking so long and fast. I'm sorry to be late, but Jim was going to East-boro and it seemed a pity to miss the ride when the foliage is so beautiful. I wish you could have seen it, too."

She turned toward the kitchen, the impending meal on her mind, but the old lady stopped her with a question: "But didn't he tell you about his mother?"

"Charmian came back to ask: 'What about his mother?' He never mentioned her."

"You must have made yourself extra diverting then," said Grandma seriously. "George K. stopped in, and 'twas he told me the news. It doesn't seem hardly believable—but Sarah Bennett's going to California!"

"To California!" repeated Charmian in amazement. "And leave Jim?"

"My stars!" ejaculated the old lady. "Don't you know that Sarah Bennett wouldn't any more think of going without Jim than she'd think of going without a pocket handkerchief? It seems she hasn't been feeling very well, and Edward Howe thought a warm climate might help her. Her twin sister, Sophie, lives somewhere out that way, and they're going to her. What's more, George K. says if the climate agrees with her, the chances are they'll never come back! Didn't I say it had been an exciting day?"

CHAPTER XVII.

"That night when she lay in bed, staring at a crack in the ceiling that showed weirdly bright in the light of the harvest moon, Charmian wondered if the evening meal had been fit to eat. She had gone about its preparation in a daze, wondering why Jim hadn't spoken of this big change in his life—feeling hurt that he wouldn't have confided in her—wondering how Wickfield would seem without her old playmate to drop in of an evening, or to pick her up after school hours as he had today—telling herself vigorously that she wasn't one bit in love with him—admitting in the next breath that she would miss him terribly. The clock in the Town Hall tower struck midnight before she closed her eyes.

Yet it had been a diverting evening because the merry had stopped in for a chat with Grandma. Doctor Howe, also, had drawn up before the door, and summoning Charmian outside with his familiar whistle, told her not to worry about her "job," that the school board would uphold her in case of trouble.

"But don't let Grandma hear a word about it," she implored him. "Has the deacon been to you already?"

"Not he!" smiled the old man. "He knows too well whose side I'm liable to take. I heard the story from Jim Bennett. Guess he thought I'd better be prepared. Good-night, child. I won't say a word to Grandma; but you can count on me in an emergency; and, if I know him, you can count on George K., too. Don't lose your sleep."

A short encounter had brought Charmian's thoughts around to Jim, from whom they had wandered during the Merry's call; but they were switched away again by John Carter, who was teaching Grandma three-handed bridge and wanted Charmian's assistance. They sat up till the unhealed hour of ten!

Yet despite all these diversions, Charmian couldn't rest. Her anxiety about the trouble with Deacon Purdie, and her hurt that Jim hadn't spoken of his plans, were poor bedfellows. She looked big-eyed next morning, and the doctor said at breakfast: "You didn't sleep well, did you?"

"Do you keep an X-ray machine back of those eyes of yours?" she asked. "No, I didn't sleep—that is, restfully. Our bridge game was too exciting. I felt as if I'd inhaled a pint of coffee."

"I'll drive you to school," offered the M.D.

The girl shook her head.

"I'm just as grateful, but I need exercise, and it's a gorgeous morning for a walk."

"I kind of suspect," said Grandma softly, as Charmian left them, going to the kitchen to prepare their lunch, "that she's been to see the doctor."

Jim Bennett didn't tell her he was going to California. Seems funny, doesn't it? He never said a word about it; and so far I know, no one else in Wickfield has ever been west of the Mississippi except George K. and Salina. They took a trip on their silver wedding anniversary—a delayed honeymoon, George K. called it, because they hadn't the money to take them when they were married. They went most everywhere—Yellowstone National Park, the Grand Canyon, and San Francisco. Though I should think they'd have been afraid of earthquakes.

"Well, Doctor, I wonder will anybody break a neck in front of your office this morning. That accident was fortunate to happen where it did; but I guess if Lizzie Baker had seen the narrow escape her cat had, she'd have had a spasm."

It was not a longing for exercise which made Charmian refuse the doctor's offer of a ride that morning, but a desire to walk off the depression that still persisted. She felt not only depressed, she told herself as she stepped out into the clear October sunshine, but irritable. Why should she care because Jim Bennett had let her hear the news of him from some one else?

"I wish," she scolded, as she passed the portals of the First National Bank. "I wish I could put Jim and his affairs out of my mind for ever and ever"—which shows that the irritability was not imagined. But this wish, ardent though it sounded, was not to be fulfilled. It was George K. Knowles, issuing from his wide, hospitable doorway, who again reminded her of her old chum.

"Hold on a minute!" he called, as Charmian waved a greeting; and giving his Salina an unashamed and hasty kiss, he fell into step with the new school teacher, although her destination was opposite to his.

"Just wanted to tell you not to worry about the school," he began at once. "The board will uphold you as long as the doctor and yours truly are elected. Just stick to what you know is right, my dear, and the deacon will have to crawl. What'll you do, Charmian, when Jim Bennett isn't here to light your battles?"

His kind blue eyes smiled at her as she retorted, "Fight them myself, or surrender ignominiously to the enemy." But her rising color didn't escape George K., whose heart was young in spite of his gray hairs, and he said soberly:

"You wouldn't be the only one in Wickfield to miss the boy, my dear. He's fast becoming my right-hand man. His father was my best friend, too—a good man was James Bennett, married to a selfish woman. Salina would take my head off for saying so; but I guess you know the truth. If Jim's father had lived, Sarah would have ruined his life most likely, and now she's doing her best to ruin Jim's."

"He should stick up for his rights, then," said Charmian coldly, and lifted her chin the least bit higher.

George K. cast upon her a sidelong glance.

"Do you ever live in the house with Sarah Bennett?"

"Did you?" Charmian countered. "No, thank God!" George K. exploded, "but I know her kind. They break the spirit after a while. Charmian, and Jim, poor boy, has known no other close companionship. Sometimes I wonder how he kept his sense of humor and his kind heart. Well, as they reached the corner where Main Street turned off toward District Four, 'I'll be late at the bank if I escort you any farther. You'll remember not to worry?'"

"I'll remember, Uncle George," she answered gratefully, "and—thanks."

To Grandma the morning seemed to drag. John Carter had left shortly stop for his customary cart. And after breakfast, and even the R.F.D. man was behind time, so couldn't he brought was an advertisement! Grandma tossed it scornfully into the waste basket, and wished that something interesting would occur.

"Seems as if Wickfield was never so still before," she complained aloud. "All I've seen is Lizzie Baker hanging out her dish towels, and Mr. Merry hurrying home from the post office with the paper. The children haven't had any lights, or the dogs, either! Here come an auto. I do believe it's Jimmy, and he's stopping."

She was right. Jim drew up before the door, got out, kicked a suspicious looking tire, and then came in.

Men Who Recovered From Insanity Leads Movement To Aid the Mentally Sick

One of the leading figures at a world conference on mental hygiene recently in Washington, D.C., Clifford Beers, who was himself an asylum inmate for some time as a victim of insanity. He ultimately got better and resumed his place in society, and when success came to him—he was a graduate of the University of Yale—he devoted his time to leading a world movement in aid of the mentally sick.

A man who has suffered from a terrible illness or affliction, and who, whether he gets better of it or not, devotes his time or money to the cure or prevention of that trouble in others, has found his true niche in life. None can appreciate what these things mean so much as those who have suffered, and it is probable that a great deal of the world's scientific progress arose from just such circumstances.

There is, however, one great scientist living whose wisdom skill has not contributed to the particular affliction from which he suffers badly. Thomas Alva Edison is almost stone deaf, and has been this for many years, yet he has not produced a device to remove that condition. When asked why, he replies that he doesn't want to be bothered by people talking to him!

That may be just his little joke. But it does seem strange that he has never paid any attention to acoustical devices.

Of course, it may be that he considers it more a matter for medicine and surgery than for the electrical laboratory.

Named After Duke

Cambridge Bay, Victoria Island, was named by Thomas Simpson in 1829, after H.R.H. Adolphus Frederick, 6th Duke of Cambridge (1773-1850), and 7th son of George III. Thomas Simpson was a cousin of Sir George Simpson, Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company. Along with an experienced H.B.C. officer, Peter Dease, he explored the Arctic Coast from Alaska eastward in the years 1826-39.

London's force of police-women is to be doubled in strength. In 1925 the number was raised from 24 to 50. Now it is to be more than 100.

The line of the equator crosses no desert.

Old Secret Revealed

Cruel Sultan's Rod Of Power Held Concealed Weapon

The Red Sultan, as Abdul-Hamid II. was known, brought down into the supposedly civilized times of the nineteenth century, both the splendor and the wickedness of a darker age. He won his name from the carelessness with which he sent people to a better world, for which they may or may not have been grateful.

One of his peculiarities was that he never seen without a certain jeweled sceptre in his hand. During a friendly audience he would use it as a staff, leaning his head upon the carved jade cross which formed the handle. In the midst of his throne room, and at the height of the massacres which he ordered in the Near East he used it to emphasize the decrees by which thousands of men, women and children went to their brutal deaths.

None knew just why this symbol of his tyrannic power was always present, but recently, half a century after his death, the secret has been revealed.

Abdul-Hamid II. left his sceptre to his successor—the first time that it had passed from his hand. But fate overtook the dynasty in the form of a revolution and, with other royal jewels, the rod of power found its way into the care of antique dealers.

Recently a merchant in the Rue la Boetie, in Paris, took the sceptre from a shelf where it had long rested to show it to a customer. As he handled it he touched the jewels, and suddenly one of them gave way with a little click. He pressed harder, the sceptre opened and there was revealed a long, thin, cruelly dangerous dagger.

The Red Sultan stands revealed as a man who was afraid, who knew that in the midst of his authority he was not safe, that visitor or soldier alike might attempt his life and so carried ever in his own hand the only surety upon which he might depend.

A Real War Hero

Cardinal Lucon, Of Rheims, Served His Country Loyal

The death of Cardinal Lucon, of Rheims, removes one of the most notable ecclesiastical figures of the war period. When the German guns were trained upon Rheims, when the magnificent cathedral was shelled and its interior gutted, and part of the sacred edifice was actually smashed by German shells, the Archbishop stood faithfully at his post. He would not leave, though urged to retire to a place of safety. His place, he declared, was with his countrymen in their hour of need. The shelling of the edifice, and continued to fulfill his duties throughout the various bombardments. Later, he made his protest more effective, and it was his fiery letter to the Pope condemning the inhumanities of the German deportation of French folk from northern France that drew from the Vatican the famous message of rebuke to the German Emperor.

Cardinal Lucon was made of the stuff that wins for men in other walks of life honors and fame. The example of courage he set, his calmness, his resolute determination and his abiding faith, made the Rheims Cathedral a beacon towards which Frenchmen turned their eyes in the hours of agony. The cathedral still stands, and now its many hallowed memories are enriched by the record of a life devoted to the service of God and man, and the name of Cardinal Lucon is engraved for ever upon its scroll of those who stood firm in their faith during a period when men's faith was sorely shaken. He was a war hero just as much as were Joffre and Foch, and he served his country just as loyally.

Authors Are Prosperous

There has never been such a time as the present for English writers who catch the public taste. Within the last twelve months one author has made more than £60,000 by a single play, and another nearly £15,000 from a single novel. And both are well on the right side of 40.

Showed Canada's Efficiency

Opening Day At Antwerp Exhibition Found Building Completely

"Canada scored signally in the early weeks of the International Exhibition at Antwerp, and continues to lead and dominate the Fair," said E. T. Nollie, Director of Exhibits (Department of Immigration and Colonization), Canadian Pacific Railway, on his return from that exhibition, which still has six months to run.

"The reason for Canada's prominence," Mr. Nollie explained, "is Canada alone of all the participating countries, had her building set up and finished, inside and out, on time. Not only that, but the whole area of the Canadian Pavilion was complete in the last detail of lawn and walks, shrubbery, hedge and flower beds. The whole ensemble, in fact, was a striking achievement which, in a singular manner, gave an impression of efficiency that was decidedly a feather in Canada's cap."

WHEN YOUR CHILD IS FEVERISH

Give Him Baby's Own Tablets

The health of babies and little children is subject to rapid changes. Thus the mother must be on her guard. At the first sign of feverishness Baby's Own Tablets should be given—this may avert a serious illness.

Concerning the Tablets Mrs. Norman Lee, Uxbridge, Ont., says: "My little boy, now three years old, was not at all well. He was feverish and had no appetite. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and he was soon well again. I would not be without the Tablets as long as there are young children in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Many Government Employees

One out of every five Germans receives a salary or financial aid from the Government. Minister of Labor, Adam Stogewald, told the Reichstag budget committee. In all, he said, 12,000,000 persons are receiving money from the national treasury in one way or another.

Travels Hour Every Day

Traffic statisticians have figured out that one hour a day of the average Berliner's time is consumed riding on omnibuses, street cars or elevated or underground trains. This amounts to 13 full days a year.

Little Helps For This Week

"That ye love one another."—John xcv. 17.

Give thy heart's best treasures, From fair Nature learn: Give thy strength of infants so that Wait not a return. And the more thou spendest From thy little store, With a double bounty God will give thee more.

—Adelaide Anne Procter.
The beautiful law of Christian love, life, and truth is, that the more we give of our own capital the more that capital increases. The widow's cruse of oil and barrel of meal increased as she distributed them; and a Christian's sunshine and happiness, faith and hope, will be invigorated and multiplied in proportion as he tries to make others hopeful, trustful, and happy.—John Cumming.

The use of Miller's Worm Powders insures healthy children so far as the ailments attributable to worms are concerned. A high mortality among children is traceable to worms. These sap the strength of infants so that they are unable to maintain the battle of life and succumb to weakness. This preparation gives promise of health and keeps it.

Only One Restriction

Inquiry has been made at headquarters of the World's Grain Show, Regina, as to whether or not the number of exhibitors from any one province or state is restricted. There is no restriction whatever to the number of entries in any of the competitive classes except that an exhibitor will be allowed to make not more than one entry in any one class.

"Duchess" Salutes Bridge

There was a happy incident at the opening of the $20,000,000 Montreal Harbour Bridge on Victoria Day when the Canadian Pacific liner "Duchess of Richmond," 20,000-ton giant under the command of Captain A. Freer, R.N.R., added the salute of its deep siren to the cheers of the thousands assembled. Just as Premier Mackenzie King was formally opening the bridge, the liner passed dramatically beneath it with multi-colored flags fluttering from bow to stern and her ensign dipping in the salute. Then she halted the bridge with the stentorian "long, two short and long" blasts that herald arrival of Canadian Pacific ships. It is interesting to note that what is seen of the bridge contains the same weight of steel—20,000 tons—as there is in the ship.

HONEY, WHAT IS IT?

Honey is an energy producing food and in addition is considered to be the best of all sweets. It comes direct from nature unchanged and untreated by human agency. Honey is the nectar of flowers gathered and modified by honey-bees and stored in their hives as food. It contains approximately 75 per cent sugar; 18 to 20 per cent water, small quantities of mineral salts and other substances which impart flavor and aroma. Honey ranges from water white to almost black in color and has as many flavours as there are flowers, usually the lighter its color the more delicate its flavour. Practically all Canadian honey granulates sooner or later; this phenomenon being governed by its sugar content and its degree of ripeness. Granulation does not impair the quality or flavour of honey nor is it, as many suppose, an indication of adulteration, rather it is a sign of its purity. Granulated honey can readily be returned to its liquid form by standing the container in hot water. It should not, however, be heated to more than 140 degrees Fahrenheit, or its flavor and aroma will be destroyed and the color darkened. If extracted honey is to be stored for any length of time, it should be kept in a cool dry room but comb honey should be kept warm and dry. Honey is valuable as food because practically all it sugar is in inverted form which is readily assimilated by the body and places no tax on the digestive system as do most other sugars. In addition to the sugars it contains certain other elements that are essential to the human body. As a sweet it is unsurpassed. It is the only sweet that comes unchanged from nature, and was at one time, the world's only sweet. — C. B. Gooderham, Dominion Apiarist.
